

IMS Library

The Library of the Indian Mathematical Society was started in 1907 at the Fergusson College, Pune with Wrangler Principal R. P. Paranjpye as its first Librarian,. He served in the capacity of Librarian from 1907 to 1922. In 1950, the Library was shifted to Madras (Chennai), and is now housed in the Campus of the Ramanujan Institute for Advanced Study in Mathematics, University of Madras, Chennai The Library receives many journals on Exchange basis and has a rich collection of back numbers of some reputed mathematical journals received from all over the world. The complete catalogue of the back volumes of all the periodicals published by the Society as well as those received in exchange by the Society and available in the IMS Library, Chennai. The Director of the Ramanujan Institute for Advanced Study in Mathematics, University of Madras, Chennai is Ex officio Librarian of the Library. Presently Prof M Pitchaimani is the Librarian of the IMS Library.

There is a spate of request for xerox copies of articles published in these journals and the Library attends to these demands promptly. If a particular journal is not available in the IMS Library, the scholars/students are requested to contact other Libraries where it is likely to be available providing them with the addresses of those Libraries. For this one can request to the Librarian on the email : mpitchaimani@yahoo.com

The copy of research papers published in The Journal of the Mathematical Society can also be purchased from the website of Informatics Pvt Ltd, Bangalore, India (IPL) <http://informaticsjournals.in/index.php/jims>
